

Fortune of Year 2025 for People Born in the Year of the Pig

Career Tip: Proceed Cautiously And Maintain A Low Profile To Avoid Trouble.

2025 will be the Year of the Snake, which is in direct conflict with your zodiac sign, causing a situation where your fortunes will be clashing with the year's Tai Sui. Moreover, there are many unlucky stars in your chart this year, signaling that this year's fortune will be bumpy with many obstacles.

In terms of career, the unlucky star "Lan Gan" (Railing) is in your chart, warning that you'll face many challenges and setbacks this year. If you're not careful, you could easily suffer a major misfortune or even face legal troubles. Therefore, you must be extra careful when handling business matters this year.

Remember that this year it's better to be defensive than offensive, focusing on stability and preserving what you already have in order to not lose ground. Don't attempt large-scale business expansions, as the timing may not be ideal and your endeavors are likely to end in failure. Additionally, you must pay close attention to your company's financial situation this year to prevent insolvency.

The presence of the star "Yi Ma" (Traveling Horse) indicates frequent travels this year, and you may encounter benefactors for your business on your journeys. Developing opportunities abroad may also bring unexpected gains this year.

The zodiac signs that will be most helpful for your career development this year are the Tiger and the Rooster. If you can work with those born in these years with sincerity, you're likely to break through obstacles in mutually beneficial ways.

The most favorable direction this year is north. The most favorable career choices for you this year are those associated with the elements "wood" and "metal".

Financial Tip: You May Experience Financial Losses, But Avoid Taking High-interest Loans.

People born in the Year of the Pig will experience a sluggish financial situation this year. Neither your regular income source nor side profits can be relied upon. Your regular income will be poor and unstable, and you may find your expenses exceeding your income, so you must be particularly careful with financial management.

The inauspicious star "Da Hao" (Big Consumption) is in your chart, warning that you may lose a great amount of money this year. Even in such a situation, you're advised to avoid high-interest loans to prevent getting bogged down.

Your financial fortune will be the lowest in the third and fourth months of the lunar calendar (around the cusp of spring and summer) as well as the final two months of the year.

Fortune of Year 2025 for People Born in the Year of the Pig

Health Tip: Your Liver And Kidneys Are Vulnerable. Be Wary Of High Places.

Those born in the Year of the Pig will generally have good health this year, but your liver and kidneys may be vulnerable. Pay close attention to the care of these organs and avoid overworking to prevent developing illnesses from fatigue.

The presence of the inauspicious star "Po Sui" (Broken) in your chart warns you to be careful when climbing to high places this year to avoid injuries from falling. You should also be cautious of injuries from objects falling from above.

Additionally, the inauspicious star "Pi Tou" (Disheveled Hair) is a warning that you must take special care of the health and safety of elderly family members this year. Don't be careless, or you may end up in mourning. Pay close attention to traffic safety in the final two months of the year.

Relationship Tip: Your Romantic Affairs May Lack In Passion, Potentially Leading To Separation.

Those born in the Year of the Pig may be prone to mood swings and unpredictable emotions this year. You must try to exercise self-control to avoid becoming alienated.

In terms of romantic relationships, don't neglect your partner this year. Try to show more care and understanding to prevent growing apart and potentially separating.

However, if a relationship is truly beyond repair, don't force it, as this will only cause harm to yourself and others.

Lukcycharm: Rising To Prominence

"Rising to prominence" means standing out from the crowd and becoming distinguished. A qilin has a pair of protruding dragon horns on its head, while a rhinoceros boasts a single spiritual horn. A qilin and a rhinoceros together form the auspicious sign of rising to prominence.

Individuals born in the Year of the Pig will be clashing with the Tai Sui this year, facing a bumpy fortune with many career obstacles that must be overcome with great effort. You're recommended to place a "Rising to Prominence" charm in a north-facing direction or on the head of your desk to ward off negative energies.
